Riding a Hobby

It is an astonishing fact that some of the Republican papers in this State, as well as in Massachusetts, seem to feel much more disturbed at being obliged to admit that the Australian ballot law is solely responsible for the election of a Democratic Governor in the Bay State, than they do over the loss of the Governor. Having mounted this hobby they evidently entertain the opinion that their one object in life is to defend it no matter what the cost may be to the people or the party. We are free to confess that we do not understand the motive that actuates these papers. When this law was enacted in the several States it was claimed by its advocates that the purpose of the law was to secure the fullest and freest expression of the popular will at the polls. It has been shown in a fair trial that the effect of the law is to do the reverse of this, and get those papers kept right on singing the praises of the system which defeats it rather than promotes the end for which it was made to be enacted.

These papers are just as unfair in their treatment of the question now that the law has proved to be an honest solution of the problem as they were when engaged in advocating its adoption. One of them declares that the party whose organ it is, the charges in denouncing the law and each their readers to watch their strength in the same way as sure it be beaten. We really would like to know how this applies to the case in Massachusetts. The papers so far as we are informed all supported the law and gave due attention to the instruction of their readers in the use of the system, but the fact is, the papers which the law was made to be enacted to secure the fullest and freest expression of the popular will at the polls, and the law was made to be enacted to secure the fullest and freest expression of the popular will at the polls.

The more the election returns are studied the more it is evident that the law is the cause of the result. It now appears that twenty thousand Republicans who intended to vote for Lincoln, lost their votes for Governor Lincoln in the property marked ballot. In other words under the old system in total of the election (Russell) due entirely to these returns (Hale) would have had a handsome plurality in the State. In discussing the situation the Boston Herald argues the Republic for their carelessness, while the Democratic papers smear alleged Republican ignorance. But the record of the returns shows that while the Republicans suffered the most, it was not because of the law, but because of the law. In other words, if all parties were not disfranchised by their inability to properly mark the new ballot.

In addition to the 20,000 votes lost to Mr. Hale it appears that there were 12,000 blanks for Lieutenant Governor, 10,000 for Treasurer and nearly 10,000 for Secretary of State. This is a charming record for a system intended to secure a full expression of the popular will in an unbridgeable right under the droppings of the defective ballot. Our readers will remember that when this law was passed the advocates of the system in this State the papers advocating it derided the idea that it proposed law was in the least complicated and declared that men who could not understand this "simple method of voting ought to be disfranchised." Massachusetts has the reputation of being a fairly intelligent State, but it seems that the people up there in spite of the assistance of the Boston Herald which was one of the papers that advocated that those who urged the danger of forcing such complicated machinery upon the people insulted the voters were unable to use it.

The Philadelphia Herald has been inclined to favor this system of voting but now that it has been given a fair trial it says "The Australian ballot has led to huge losses in California which may invalidate the State election. In Massachusetts it has elected the Democratic candidate for Governor when a majority of the voters intended to elect the Republican candidate. In Ohio it split and divided the vote for electors, so that if the result had been close the new ballot would have launched the country on a difficult and dangerous dispute over the result in that State. The Australian ballot was original devised for elections first in Australia and later in England, in which each party presents only one candidate, and only one place to be filled. The attempt to apply it to elections in this country in which from twenty to fifty offices are elected at a single election, manifestly has been altogether successful.

None of our contemporaries might profitably follow the example of the Herald in what is apparent to every thoughtful man namely that this law is a sad failure.

Ex Secretary Blaine
FALL BETTER IN HEALTH THAN A SEASONAL REPORT HAS BEEN SENT TO THE BOSTON JOURNAL. WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. Many anxious inquiries have been received here to-day as to the health of Mr. Blaine. If he could answer them all he would, doubtless, do so in the language of the message sent to the President this afternoon. The President sent his private secretary to Mr. Blaine's house this afternoon to inquire as to his health, and was gratified to learn that he was much better than he had been represented by some newspapers, and that he was, in fact, "dressed and sitting up in a cheerful frame of mind." Mr. Blaine's physician Dr. Johnson said that when he arrived at the Blaine residence this morning to hold a consultation with Dr. Hirsch he found Mr. Blaine up and dressed and looking decidedly improved. Dr. Johnson said that Mr. Blaine would be able to go outdoors in a few days if the weather remained fine.

We Wish Here and Now to Set Right a Very False Matter.

We Have the Proof and Evidence at Hand to Perfectly Settle all Doubts.

False notions sometimes become deeply rooted. There is an extremely false idea prevalent among the people that inherited consumption or an inherited weak and delicate condition is necessarily sure at some time to prove fatal.

This is decidedly and emphatically wrong and leads to fears and apprehensions upon the part of persons who thus inherit a weakness of the lungs, tendency to cough, catarrh, or bronchial irritation, or a feeble, delicate or debilitated constitution. Of course if such weak condition of the lungs or feeble state of the body is neglected, consumption and premature death will almost surely result. But by observing proper care and making use of the proper means, all danger can be averted and good health and strength maintained.

In proof of this now well-established fact we have known many affected people, or those having naturally weak and delicate constitutions, to continue in sound health by keeping the blood good, the nerves strong and the digestion perfect by using that great health and strength giver, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

Many such cases are constantly occurring, but we will here cite only one, a most wonderful restoration from inherited consumption, which came under our personal observation. This lady, Mrs. Addie I. Cragg, of 101 North Portland Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., stated the facts to us personally, and we will give them to our readers in her own words.

MRS. ADDIE I. CRAGG

"I had poor health for several years. Have been under the treatment of many doctors, but they did me no good. The more medicine I took, the weaker I grew, was so bad at last that I could not eat or sleep, and had a cough that almost racked me to pieces. I had pains in my chest which made breathing very difficult.

As my father, brother and sister had died with consumption, I thought my time had come. With much pleasure and gratitude, I can now say that I have been entirely cured of my troubles by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

"My appetite is excellent, food digests easily, sleep is refreshing, and altogether I feel restored to health once more. I most earnestly recommend Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to all who are afflicted with obstinate chronic, nervous or painful diseases. I have recommended it to many sufferers, and am pleased to say that it has given general satisfaction."

We should certainly advise those who have any weakness of the system whatever to immediately use this remedy. It will make you well and strong again. It is not one of the so-called patent medicines, but is a physician's prescription, the discovery indeed of one of our most eminent and successful specialists in curing chronic and long-standing diseases, Dr. Greene, of 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass. The doctor can be consulted free, personally or by letter, and this fact alone guarantees the great value of the remedy. All druggists keep it for $1.00 per bottle, and it is purely vegetable and harmless.

SKODA'S DISCOVERY, the Great German-American Remedy for Heart, Nerves, Liver, Kidneys, Blood. Guaranteed contract with every bottle. Pay only for the good you receive. At all Druggists, $1.00 per bottle, six bottles $5.00. If you want to know about SKODA'S REMEDY, send postal for "Morning Light."

ARTHUR A. YOUNG, Liverpool, Me.

Be certain in the most important cases of Heart, Nerves, Liver, Kidneys, Blood, that you get a genuine SKODA'S REMEDY, and a postal for "Morning Light."

FRESHMAN'S AID SOCIETY

In Session at Portland.

PORTLAND, Nov. 26. The convention of the Freshman's Aid Society began this morning with a very small attendance, less than 35 people being present. Rev. D. B. Randall, of Portland, presided, and Rev. John Collins, of Portland, spoke on the review of organic union of Episcopal Methodists, followed by Rev. George D. Lindsay, of Portland. A resolution was adopted disapproving of the sentiments of Bishop Foster. The resolution was discussed by Rev. Dr. Rees, Rev. Dr. Mason and other southern visitors.

DOING WELL

In the Reported Condition of Mr. Blaine and Mr. Scott.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. Mr. Blaine and Dr. Scott are both reported to be doing very well this morning.

Inquiry at Mr. Blaine's house at twelve o'clock to-day, elicited the response that "Mr. Blaine is very much better to-day, according to Dr. Johnson, who has just left him. He is sitting up as usual, and has already read the morning papers." Mr. James G. Blaine, Jr. is authority for the statement that no definite plans have been formed for his father's contemplated trip to California. It had not been decided where he would go, though it would be to some place in Southern California. The journey will not be made before the first of January, at any rate, Mr. Blaine said.

HORSE THIEVES RUN DOWN

DENVER, Col., Nov. 26. John McLeod and Sam Pollock, of Sierra County, N. M., gave chase, Saturday, to horse thieves who, when overtaken opened fire. McLeod and Pollock returned fire killing one of the thieves and wounding another. The third proved to be a woman, known as "Kid." She is 26 years old. Her name is Alice Parker and she comes from Texas. She was dressed in male attire and carried a huge six shooter.

IMPORTANT HEARING.

To Test the Constitutionality of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law.

BOSTON, Nov. 26. A hearing will be set for some day next week, in the case of United States against the National Cash Register Co., which is brought to test the constitutionality of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law. Should the Government be sustained in its position in this case, proceedings against the Whiskey Trust officials will be pushed at once and, it is understood, proceedings will be commenced to smash the coal combine.

THE COAL COMBINE

Meeting of Congressional Committee in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. Congressional Sub-Committee of Inter-State and Foreign Commerce Commission, which has been investigating methods of fixing the prices of anthracite coal by the Philadelphia and Reading and other roads, met again this morning. B. M. Oilphant, President of the Delaware and Hudson Canal, was the first witness and agreed to furnish a list of prices of the coal of his company, month by month, for the past two years. Wm. E. Street, Secretary of the Pennsylvania Coal Co., gave his testimony regarding the meetings of sales agents. He practically admitted these meetings were held for the purpose of regulating the output of each producer and the price for which it should be sold.

AT HOMESTEAD MILLS

Non-Union Men Leaving to Give Place to Old Men.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Nov. 26. It is known to a certainty that quite a large number of non-union men left the mill Saturday, after receiving their pay, but the number cannot be given. Since six o'clock this morning, the pay window at the mill office has been besieged by new men who were getting ready to leave for other parts. One train took away over thirty of the non-unionists who were leaving the mill for good. Applications for work by the strikers were quite numerous to-day, and many were successful in securing their old positions. New men are now realizing they will have to give way to the old men and not waiting to be discharged.

NO FOUNDATION IN FACT

In the Published Story of Direct Descendants of Columbus Living in Spain.

BOSTON, Nov. 26. A story was published some weeks ago, stating that in a charitable asylum in Cadiz, Spain, were living a brother and sister, direct descendants of Columbus, who had been taken in charge while begging on the streets. In reply to a private communication on the subject, a letter was received from U. S. Consul Turner, at Cadiz, to-day, in which he says there is no evidence to show that any descendants of Columbus reside in that city, either as residents or inmates of public or private institutions, and that so far as he is able to learn, after investigation, the story has no foundation in fact.

INTENSE EXCITEMENT.

Negro Worshippers Waiting to Hear Gabriel's Bugle.

Colored Ministers Picture a Collision Between Comet and Earth.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 26. The negroes were wild with excitement last night. All the colored churches were crowded with darky worshippers who every moment expected to hear Gabriel's bugle announcing the end of the world. The colored ministers took the comet as the text and wrought their congregations in a frenzy of excitement by picturing a collision between the comet and the earth. Men, women, and children fell on their knees and prayed to God to save them from the devil.

A driving rain fell here until nine o'clock and it was impossible to get a glimpse of the comet through the clouds. The comet attracted little attention among the white people.

JOHN QUICKLY EXTEMPORIZED FIVE PAGES.

This is a meaningless sentence, but contains all the letters of our alphabet. Five of these letters spell "woman," large numbers of women believe in virtues of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a strictly vegetable compound, her use only, and an unfailing cure the many ills that beset her. It restores wasted strength, restores the fit to a normal condition, and fits to bear and rear healthy offspring; moistens digestion, purifies the blood, gives activity to the bowels and kidneys in a word, it is woman's cure and guard. Guaranteed to give satisfaction or its price ($1.00) refunded.
